MOVIE GRANT'S BODY

Remains of General in Governors Island Chapel.

NO MILITARY CEREMONY

Details of Funeral, to Take Place in Ten Days, Not Yet Completed.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The body of Gen. Frederick Dent Grant, late commander of the Department of the East, was moved this afternoon from the Hotel Buckingham to Governors Island, where it was placed under a military guard of honor in the chapel of St. Cornelius church. There it will lie until the arrival here from Russia of the Princess Cantacuzene, Gen. Grant's daughter, for whom the funeral services have been delayed. The princess' journey will take at least ten days.

The removal of the body today to Governors Island was accompanied by no military display or ceremony, these honors being reserved for the funeral. A small crowd watched the hearse and four carriages containing immediate members of the dead general's family and his military aids. Civilian cars drove away from the hotel. Two mounted policemen headed the procession.

Family in Carriages.

As the coffin, with the field cap and saber of the late commander resting upon it, was borne to the hearse, hats were removed. Mrs. Grant entered her carriage on the arm of her son, Capt. Cyprian S. Grant, 3d, and in other carriages rode Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer, Jr., Mrs. Honore Palmer, and the military aids, Capt. Knowles, Capt. Thorne and Lieut. Howze.

At Governors Island the casket was borne to the chapel by a special guard of honor, consisting of six sergeants. Mrs. Grant, in a statement issued today, through Lieut. Howze, detailing today's plans, said that "Gen. Grant's fondness for his home and surroundings on Governors Island, where he had been in command for six years, made it his family to feel a deep sentiment in thus taking his remains back."

Mrs. Grant and her son will remain here until the funeral, final arrangements for which will not be made, she stated, until the arrival of her daughter. Mrs. Potter Palmer and Adrian Honore, the widow's sister and brother, are expected to arrive in New York tonight or early tomorrow morning from Chicago, and Gen. Grant's brother, U. S. Grant, Jr., has started from California for this city.

Veterans Send Regrets.

A message was received today by Mrs. Grant from the Society of the 21st Illinois Volunteer Infantry, signed by Joseph W. Vance, president, and read: "Society of the 21st Illinois Volunteer Infantry bemoan the loss and comradeship of its most distinguished member. Gen. Grant's earliest military experience, as a lad, was had with the 21st Illinois Volunteer Infantry, commanded by his father. I am directed by this society to convey to you the deepest sympathy of the surviving members of this regiment in your great bereavement and our country's loss."

BILLS ARE INTRODUCED TO AID "GEN." WHITAKER

Would Put Smoke Inspector on Army Retired List as Lieutenant Colonel.

The entire war record of Edward W. Whitaker, known as "Gen." Whitaker, or "Smoke Inspector" Whitaker, is set forth in two bills, introduced for his special benefit of both houses of Congress, and now before the military committee. It is proposed to appoint Whitaker, a retired colonel, to the grade of lieutenant colonel, and to place his name on the retired list, with the pay and emoluments of a retired officer of that grade. The bills were introduced by Senator Brandegee and Representative Higgins, both of Connecticut.

"Gen." Whitaker is now an employee of the health department of the District of Columbia, his special duty being to report violations of the smoke laws. However, he was not always engaged in so peaceful a pursuit. He enlisted as a volunteer in the 1st Regiment of Connecticut's first call for volunteers, and served in the field from Bull Run to Appomattox, receiving promotion in every grade to lieutenant colonel for gallantry in action. He was then specially brevetted a brigadier general of United States volunteers for his gallantry in the last three battles of the war.

In Eighty-Two Battles.

He participated in eighty-two engagements, and was so disabled in the last that he declined to accept the appointment offered him as captain in the 7th United States Cavalry. On this appointment he could have been eventually as lieutenant colonel, and it is to that rank the bill would have him appointed and placed on the retired list.

His civil war record does not tell the entire story of his military career, however, for he was a lieutenant colonel in the 1st Regiment of Connecticut Volunteers in the Spanish war.

"Gen." Whitaker was the first man of the Union forces, his friends say, to recede the word of Gen. Grant's surrender. It is only to his closest friends, however, that he tells the story.
